

PAST PERFECT X PAST PERFECT CONTINUOUS

WHEN DO WE USE THE PAST PERFECT?

We use the Past Perfect to talk about what happened first when there are two (or more) situations in the past.

STRUCTURE:

Subject + had + past participle

Examples:

Affirmative:

1. When I got to the party, Tom had already left. (1st Tom left and then I got to the party)
2. The thieves had stolen nearly $50,000 by the time the police caught them. (1st they stole the money and then the police caught them)

Negative:

1. I thought I was late, but the meeting hadn't started yet.
2. The burglar walked right in because John hadn't locked the door. (1st John didn't lock the door and then the burglar walked right in)

Interrogative:

1. What had you eaten before the allergic reaction?
2. What had the dog seen that made him run away?

HOW TO CREATE SENTENCES IN THE PAST PERFECT TENSE

AFFIRMATIVE SENTENCES:

Subject + had + past participle

Ex. We had looked at over 30 houses before choosing this one.

Ex. Paul had spent nearly $50,000 on medical bills before figuring out his diagnosis.

Ex. By the time I got to the meeting, our boss had already left.

NEGATIVE SENTENCES:

Subject + had + not + past participle

Ex. We thought we were late, but the meeting hadn't started yet.

Ex. Jenny hadn't regretted her decision to not have children until her mother passed away.

Ex. The burglar walked into the house because I hadn't locked the door.

*had + not = hadn't

INTERROGATIVE SENTENCES (QUESTIONS):

Had + subject + past participle...?

Ex. What had you eaten before the allergic reaction?

Ex. What had she done that made her run away?

Ex. Had she met him before last night?

PAST PERFECT X PAST PERFECT CONTINUOUS

WHAT HAPPENED FIRST?

1. Stephanie was walking down the street and suddenly she turned around and looked behind her. Someone had called her name.

A: Someone called Stephanie's name

2. After Kevin arrived in Madrid, he called his wife. He had promised to call her as soon as he arrived.

A: Kevin promised to call his wife

3. When I saw my son, I laughed a lot. He had put lipstick all over his face.

A: My son put lipstick all over his face.

4. When Katie arrived, Josh wasn't there. He had already left.

A: Josh left

5. I invited Janet to see the new Star Wars movie, but she said she had seen it before and wasn't interested in watching it again.

A: Janet saw the Star Wars movie

6. Edna arrived at the theater on time, but she couldn't get in. She had left her ticket at home.

A: Edna left her ticket at home

WHEN DO WE USE THE PAST PERFECT CONTINUOUS?

We use the Past Perfect Continuous to talk about what was happening and how long that event was happening before another past event.

STRUCTURE:

Subject + had + been + present participle (-ING form of the verb)

Examples:

Affirmative:

We had been waiting for nearly 20 minutes before someone helped us.

Negative:

Sheila hadn't been working for 3 weeks when her boss decided to fire her.

Interrogative:

How long had it been raining before the basement started to flood?

PAST PERFECT X PAST PERFECT CONTINUOUS

HOW TO CREATE SENTENCES IN THE PAST PERFECT CONTINUOUS

AFFIRMATIVE SENTENCES:

Subject + had + been + present participle (-ING form of the verb)

Ex. We had been living there for over 10 years before the hurricane hit.

Ex. Julie had been working on the project for nearly 10 months before she was fired.

Ex. Maggie had been waiting on the phone for nearly 2 hours when someone finally helped her.

NEGATIVE SENTENCES:

Subject + had + not + been + present participle (-ING form of the verb)

Ex. We hadn't been feeling well for about 2 weeks before we made a doctor's appointment.

Ex. The company hadn't been making any profits for about 2 years before they filed for bankruptcy.

Ex. My computer hadn't been working for about 3 days until it finally crashed.

*had + not = hadn't

INTERROGATIVE SENTENCES (QUESTIONS):

Had + subject + been + present participle (-ING form of the verb)...?

Ex. How long had you been waiting before the tow truck came?

Ex. How long had it been raining before the basement flooded?

Ex. How long had the neighbors been arguing before you called the cops?

MORE EXAMPLES

1. I had been waiting for 3 hours by the time Peter showed up.
2. Jessica had been trying to get pregnant for 2 years before she finally got pregnant.
3. A family of rabbits had been living in our basement for months before anyone discovered them.
4. Emily had been living in an orphanage for nearly 12 years by the time she was adopted.
5. Mr. Smith had been working at the same company for 25 years, when he was let go/laid off.

PAST PERFECT X PAST PERFECT CONTINUOUS

SUPER TIP!

What is the difference between the past continuous and the past perfect continuous?

- When there is a duration of time = past perfect continuous
- When there isn't a duration of time = past continuous

Examples:

1. I was sleeping when you called. (past continuous - no duration of time)
I had been sleeping for 4 hours when you called. (past perfect continuous - "4 hours" is the duration of time)

2. We were waiting for class to start when the fire alarm went off. (past continuous - no duration of time)

We had been waiting for nearly 30 minutes when the fire alarm went off. (past perfect continuous - "30 minutes" is the duration of time)

MORE EXAMPLES USING THE PAST PERFECT CONTINUOUS:

- We had been waiting for 30 minutes in the rain before someone offered us a ride.
- I had been sleeping for 9 hours when the phone rang and woke me up.
- Shelly had been working at the company for over 25 years when they let her go.

MORE EXAMPLES USING THE PAST CONTINUOUS:

- We were waiting in the rain when someone offered us a ride.
- I was sleeping when the phone rang and woke me up.
- Kelly was talking on her cell phone when she hit the stop sign.

REVIEW

We use the Past Perfect to talk about what happened first between two (or more) past events.

had + past participle

- I looked for Julie, but she had left the building.

We use the Past Perfect Continuous to talk about what was happening and for how long before another past event.

had + been + present participle (-ING form of the verb)

- I had been looking for Julie for 5 hours when she finally showed up.