

Here's Exactly What To Do To Make Any Girl Beg You For A 2nd Date (Or a First Date That 'Ends' in a sweaty heap in your bed at 8AM) . . .

Hey, it's Michael Fiore . . .

And before you get into "Get The Girl Code," I want to give you this one chance to have a secret remote control for a woman's mind, body and emotions.

Really quick: Whatever you do, do NOT leave this page or hit the back button on your browser. Your order is not yet complete and you now have a chance to upgrade your order in a way that's going to seem shocking and wonderful.

Here's what this is all about . . .

In "Get The Girl Code," Miss X is going to give you the magic power to basically read women's minds, play them like a video game and get the love, sex and attention you've been craving since high school . . .

But I want to give you something even more than that. I want to radically accelerate your success with women and give you an astonishing POWER no girl wants to resist . . .

Has this ever happened to you?

You meet a girl (at a bar, at work, through a friend, online, whatever) . . .

And at first, even though you're nervous as hell, she seems totally into you.

She flirts with you, she plays with her hair, she gives you that look that you can feel all the way down your spine and right into your crotch.

You don't even know how (because you're so nervous), but you ask her out.

She smiles wide. She says yes.

You count down the days until "the big event."
