

MAIRO VERGARA

ADVANCED PHRASAL VERBS COURSE

Sentences for Anki | Lesson 23

FRONT

After a week of not being able to find my book, I knew it had to turn up some time.

BACK

turn up = to be found, especially after being lost

When someone loses something, they may search for a long time and still not find it. In this case, the lost book, the person has been searching for a week. They know that the book will probably turn up, or be found, soon.

FRONT

When we went to the beach, Sarah couldn't find her towel but knew it would turn up once they packed up.

BACK

turn up = to be found, especially after being lost

Sarah couldn't find her towel while at the beach. However, she thought that when they packed up, and when they started moving things around, they might find it. The towel might turn up once they started to pack.

FRONT

Sammy only invited 50 people to the store opening, so he was surprised when over 100 people turned up!

BACK

turn up = to put in an appearance, to arrive

Sammy invited people to come to the store opening. He invited 50 people, but over 100 people came. He was surprised that so many people came, or that so many people turned up.

FRONT

Even though it was just a local election, over 3,000 people turned up to vote since it was such an important issue.

BACK

turn up = to put in an appearance, to arrive

Often times, not many people go to vote in local elections. In this case, over 3,000 people turned out, or came, to vote. It was an important issue, so people wanted to turn out to show their support.

FRONT

After 3 years of not being able to find her engagement ring, Louisa said it turned up underneath one of the couch cushions.

BACK

turn up = to be found, especially after being lost

Louisa's engagement ring had been missing, or lost, for 3 years. Finally, when Louisa was probably cleaning, she found the ring underneath a couch cushion. The ring turned up under the couch cushion.

FRONT

Thomas was not able to locate the only copy of his birth certificate until it finally turned up in his mom's desk drawer.

BACK

turn up = to be found, especially after being lost

Thomas could not find his birth certificate. Since this is not a document that people use on a daily basis, they sometimes forget where they stored it. In this case, Thomas forgot where he stored it. He finally found the birth certificate in his mother's drawer - it turned up there.

FRONT

When Johnathan planned the meeting for 7:30am on Monday morning, he knew that not many people would turn up.

BACK

turn up = to put in an appearance, to arrive

Going to a meeting at 7:30am is hard, especially on a Monday morning. In this case, Johnathan planned the meeting then and he guessed that not that many people would come, or would turn up for the early meeting.

FRONT

When it rained for two straight hours, not that many people turned up for the outdoor concert.

BACK

turn up = to put in an appearance, to arrive

The concert was supposed to be outdoors. When it continued to rain for 2 hours, people decided they didn't want to stand in the rain for the concert. Not that many people came, or turned up.

FRONT

Abigail knew that she would be in trouble if her mom's necklace didn't turn up in the school's lost and found.

BACK

turn up = to be found, especially after being lost

Abigail probably wore her mom's necklace to school. When she wore it, she likely lost it or misplaced it. She knew that her mom would be upset if she didn't find it, or if it didn't turn up in the lost and found.

FRONT

Even though he was going to be late, Jamie knew that Michael would eventually turn up to the party.

BACK

turn up = to put in an appearance, to arrive

Michael was going to a party, but was going to be late. Jamie knew he was going to be late, but also knew that we would eventually come, or turn up, to the party.

FRONT

When Janell heard someone yell her name behind her, she turned around to see who it was.

BACK

turn around = to move as to face the opposite direction

Janell heard someone call her name. Since the voice came from behind her, she turned around, or moved to face the opposite direction, so that she could see who it was.

FRONT

After Ryan caught the ball in the outfield, he quickly turned around to throw it back to the first baseman.

BACK

turn around = to move as to face the opposite direction

Ryan is playing outfield on his baseball team. Once he caught the ball, he was likely facing the outfield wall. He had to turn around so that he would be facing the infield. He wanted to be able to throw the ball to the first baseman.

FRONT

John's boss wanted him to get the project turned around in under a week, so he knew it would be stressful.

BACK

turn around = to get something done, finish a project or task

John's in charge of a project. His boss wanted him to finish, or turn around, the project in under a week. With such a quick turn around time, John will be stressed.

FRONT

The client called back to say that there was a delay in production on their end, so the turn around time on the artwork would also be delayed.

BACK

turn around = to get something done, finish a project or task

In projects, a turn around time is like a due date, or deadline. In this case, because production is delayed, the artwork completion will also be delayed. It will not turn around on time.

FRONT

When Sally was going through security at the airport, the security guard asked her to turn around so that they could check her with a metal detector.

BACK

turn around = to move as to face the opposite direction

Often times at airport security, they will use handheld metal detectors to determine if someone has an illegal object on their person or in their bag. In this case, Sally is asked to turn around, or face the opposite direction, so that they can check her whole body, front and back, with the metal detector.

FRONT

When the ball hit Jessica in the back of her head, she turned around to see which of her brothers threw it at her.

BACK

turn around = to move as to face the opposite direction

Jessica had a ball hit her in the back of the head. She thought it might be one of her brothers, so she turned around, or moved to face behind her, so she could see which of her brothers threw the ball at her.

FRONT

Since the festival is only a week away, the turn around time on the music video is going to be quicker than normal.

BACK

turn around = to get something done, finish a project or task

Making a music video normally would take quick a bit of time and work. Since the festival is only a week away, and thy are likely just starting the video project, the turn around time, or finish, is going to be quicker than normal.

FRONT

When the policeman yelled, "I have a gun! Turn around and put your hands up!", the robbers stopped and faced the policeman.

BACK

turn around = to move as to face the opposite direction

The policeman yelled for the robber to turn around so that he could see his face and see if he had any weapons. The robber obeyed and moved to face the policeman.

FRONT

The turn around on the kitchen renovation kept being delayed because of the lack of experience of the workers.

BACK

turn around = to get something down, finish a project or task

The kitchen renovation was supposed to be completed in a certain amount of time. The turn around time had already been decided. However, the turn around was going to be longer because the works were not experienced. The renovation would take longer to finish.

FRONT

When Mr. Roberts heard the window crash, he immediately turned around to see what happened.

BACK

turn around = to move as to face the opposite direction

Mr. Roberts heard a window crash. He likely was frightened, or curious, and wanted to know what happened. He turned around, or moved to face the opposite direction, so that he could figure out what had happened.

FRONT

When the SWAT team heard the ticking noise get faster, they knew something was about to blow up.

BACK

blow up = to explode, in a dangerous way

A SWAT team is a group of specially trained operatives that help in emergency situations. In this case, they heard ticking, likely a bomb. When the ticking got faster, they knew the bomb was probably about to explode, or blow up.

FRONT

After Sherri heard the news about her boyfriend cheating on her, she blew up and furiously yelled at him.

BACK

blow up = to react in a strong, emotionally-charged way

When Sherri found out about her boyfriend cheating, she was very angry. She was emotional and mad. She blew up, or got angry at, her boyfriend and yelled at him.

FRONT

After Kaitlin posted the video on Youtube, her brother's band video blew up over night with over 2 million views.

BACK

blow up = to become well known, through social or media avenues

Often times, Youtube videos can get popular very quickly. Sometimes they say that a video has gone "viral". Another way is to say that a video has "blown up".

FRONT

When Jimmy stole another $20 bill from his dad wallet, his dad blew up and punished him for a month.

BACK

blow up = to react in a strong, emotionally-charged way

Since it says that Jimmy stole another $20 bill, it seems like this is something Jimmy has done before. His dad is probably tired of him stealing money. When he did it this time, his dad was angry, he blew up, and punished Jimmy for a month.

FRONT

Samuel accidentally put a match on the burner which caused a reaction, so the burner blew up right before his eyes.

BACK

blow up = to explode, in a dangerous way

To blow up is to explode, so when Samuel put the match on the burner, the burner got extremely hot and exploded, or blew up in a dangerous way.

FRONT

Julius blew up at his boss after he accused him of not being a hard worker.

BACK

blow up = to react in a strong, emotionally-charged way

Julius and his boss are likely in a disagreement. During the disagreement his boss tells Julius that he is not a hard worker. Julius gets angry, and blows up at his boss. He probably yells (and probably does not work there for much longer!).

FRONT

When the large bottle of Coke had rolled around in the trunk of the car all day, it blew up with fizz when Mrs. Andrews tried to open it.

BACK

blow up = to explode, in a dangerous way

Coke is full of carbonation, so that when it gets shaken up, the carbonation reacts more. When the carbonation is not under pressure any more (when the lid is taken off), it often explodes, or blows up, with fizz going everywhere.

FRONT

When Sarah's computer company was featured on the network nightly news, sales blew up the very next day.

BACK

blow up = to become well known, through social or media avenues

When someone is featured on network nightly news, a large amount of people are exposed to that content. So many people saw Sarah's computer company that the sales blew up, or were greatly increased because of their knowledge.

FRONT

Hallie's mom blew up when she told her that she had taken the car to the beach without permission.

BACK

blow up = to react in a strong, emotionally-charged way

Hallie's mom has probably given her rules on when she can use the car. In this case, Hallie did not ask permission before she took the car to the beach. Hallie's mom is made, and blew up at Hallie.

FRONT

At the bonfire, Kevin put too much lighter fluid and the logs blew up really quickly.

BACK

blow up = to explode, in a dangerous way

Lighter fluid is used on fires to get them started, or to make them become bigger. Kevin put on too much lighter fluid and the logs blew up quickly. The fire exploded quickly.