I got the last laugh

I used to be a little on the “plus side”...

Actually, who am I kidding? I was 5’ 7” and 215...and no matter what I told myself back then, I did not “wear it well.”

But now that I’m down to 167 and counting, I can’t WAIT to share my story! See, back then I had this one coworker who was a TOTAL JERK

He was a gym rat who was in great shape. If he wasn’t so mean, I probably would’ve had a crush on him...

Anyway, he would always see me walk in with my big creamy frap and say...

“THAT is basically a milkshake for adults. No wonder you barely fit through the door!”

At the time, I would always snap back with some sort of comeback. I didn’t want to look like I couldn’t take it. The whole office was full of guys like him so I wanted to prove I was “one of the guys”.

But deep down, it HURT!

On the one hand, I felt insulted. Like he was talking down to me because of my favorite coffee choice.

On the other, I secretly wondered if he was right. So one night I did some searching online...

...and I discovered this mind blowing video that proved that my favorite coffee was NOT the problem.

In fact, by watching that video, I discovered a simple 30 second “coffee trick” I could use to transform it into the ultimate metabolism boost!

So I started using that “coffee trick” myself...

...and within a few weeks, Mr. Jerkface had a VERY different reaction.

All the sudden, he was standing there drooling with nothing to say...

...because I was in a WAY smaller and more flattering dress

AND I was still drinking the same coffee as always.

At one point, he even walked up to me after work and asked what I was doing differently...and then he actually tried to ask me out!

TBH...it's not out of the question.

But for now I've told him "maybe" and I'm enjoying watching him squirm

Anyway, I hope you'll give this "coffee trick" a shot like I did! It's truly changed my life and I couldn't be happier.
